Redefining the solar industry

Powering every system

A smarter approach to solar installations

It's our unrelenting drive to enable faster, safer and smarter solar installations that sets PV Connections apart.

Since 2009, PV Connections has been leading the Australian solar industry for safety, quality and innovation. Based in Melbourne, we've evolved from a small family business to become the go-to experts for retailers, commercial project managers and installers right across the country.

Our unique specialisation

We supply BoS and are passionate about searching the world to bring our customers the very best.

These core connecting parts between the inverters and the panels are key to the speed of the installation, and vital to the safety and reliability of the finished system. We source and supply the safest and highest quality parts that power solar systems.

Our niche focus on these connecting parts is unique in Australia's solar industry. We're inspiring new levels of quality and safety by educating our customers, sharing our knowledge and developing new innovations to meet real industry needs.

You'll find partnering with us refreshingly simple

From education and guidance through to product ordering and after-sales support, PV Connections makes our customers' lives easier and safer.

Our clients think of us as their partners. We'll collaborate closely with you, educating and supporting you to achieve the best solar solutions to suit your exact needs. And if a solution doesn't exist on the market, we have the experience and know-how to develop it ourselves.

The unseen power of solar

Ultimate quality

Zero faults from over 3 millions units sold worldwide, Benedict DC switching components surpass all others for safety.

Ultimate safety

We always stay up-to-date with changing industry standards to ensure our products and workmanship remain safe and fully compliant.

Ultimate time saving

Solarflex is proven to reduce installation time by up to 20%, enabling faster and easier solar installations.

Ultimate smarts
